Can anyone help by posting major ham 2m / 440 repeater frequencies along these routes?

Should also set up FRS channels. FRS radios are easy to get and don't require a license to transmit.

Folks need for listening to repeater traffic, which has larger footprint along the routes.

Also, hams will be activating their emergency / red-cross-style nets.

"Backwards" flag indicates advancing forward in the face of wind. It is not against flag code. FYI for everyone thinking I'm a dyslexic britbong or something.

1. can you help make these for other parts of the country? Say, from Texas? From Michigan?

This map is beautiful!!!

Just got a request for a Toledo or Columbus pre-muster point.

Your map is pushing people “over the edge” to commit to going.

I'm coming from Ohio. Would love to know where to go to find a group to descend into hell with.

Great invitation to have the deep state halt all of these convoys in their tracks. Do you even OpSec?

The publicizing tactic is sound.

The value in coordinating far exceeds the cost in countermeasures.

It is no secret that there are only limited main routes to DC.

It is no secret that they always have the option of shutting down the highways, gas stations, airports.

Without communicated muster points, their objective to disperse everyone is already accomplished.

Running this through game theory, a publicized MAGA_CALVARY is determined to be optimized use of deployment resources.

Something tells me that the Deep State is not going to be a problem for traffic on or around the 6th.

Instead, let's pray for clear and sunny skies!
